

TOTALED NEARLY $20,000

LAND SALE WAS LIVELY

Small lots, big lots, swampy lots, rocky lots, and other assorted real estate was put up for sale, Tuesday night, by the Board of Selectmen, and a total of $19,820 was realized by the town.

The land sold was 'tax title' property - land that had been taken in previous years by the town for the none payment of taxes. There was a large crowd in the town hall - 84 persons at one time, not counting town officials, and there was a lot of bidding - but the auctioneer stole the show.

Lloyd Bender, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, was the auctioneer. He kept his humor with him all evening, and newcomers, coming in the door, could only blink in amazement when they heard themselves greeted with an inquiry as to whether or not they had a lot of money.

By and large the land which was sold had been on the town's books for years. Bender had said, early this year, that he wanted to get the land off the town's books, and he did that, Tuesday.

The Jackson Brothers of Wilmington, who were trying to buy tax title land to 'round out' their holdings in the vicinity of Parker Street nearly achieved their purpose - but not quite. Robert Stevens, of the Eastern Realty Trust, managed to buy one small lot of land in the area. But the Jackson Brothers paid out the most money, Tuesday evening, for any individual lot $2650. They spent a total of about $3000.

A newcomer to Wilmington, Henry Patenaude of Burlington Avenue, (he lives in the former Roberts House) spent in excess of $2000. Patenaude was the first man to make a bid of $1000, during the course of the evening - and he did not get the lot for which he was bidding.

Herbert and Robert Stevens, of the Eastern Realty Trust, spent the most money. They spent in excess of $6000. They bought many small lots of land, and some large ones, one being a 70,000 square foot parcel on Randolph Road. The two men spent $1100 for one parcel of land, and $1020 for another.

Paul Butt, of Woburn Street, was a spirited bidder, when he wanted the land being offered. He spent in excess of $4000, and probably bought the best land sold - on King Street. He bought two good lots there, paying about $1500 apiece for the lots.

Among the others who bid was Sheldon Butter of Stoneham, who bought many of the $20 lots, for a total of about $700, and a man names Jones, address unknown, of the Jones Realty, who spent about $350. Mr Jones opened the bidding more often than any other bidder.

John Lucel spent in excess of $500, and Mrs Amelia Booth bought three parcels of land, spending about $250. John Ella, who was present the entire evening, spent only $20, for one parcel.

The terms of the sale were cash, with the purchaser to pay for the deed, stamps, and cost of filing, plus taxes on the land for 2/3rds of a year.

Bender had at first ruled that the bidding was to be by $10 increments. As the evening progressed he increased the increments to $20, and at the end the increments were in $50 lots.

He reminded the bidders to keep in mind that 'the Good Lord isn't going to make any more land, but is going to make a lot more people'.

Principal Assessor Anthony Kryzanski said, yesterday, that not only had the town received nearly $20,000 in cash, but that it would also receive an additional $6000 in taxes, which it had not been receiving because the land had been publicly owned.

Postmaster Henry J Porter is urging the residents of Wilmington who have funds on deposit in the abolished Postal Savings System to convert their holdings into US Savings Bonds.

The Postmaster General, Mr. Porter says, has appealed to the 930,000 Americans who have $258 millions on deposit with the Post Office Department to convert their investments into Savings Bonds.

Selectmen's Meeting

Planning Board secret meeting?

A more or less serious accusation, but with its humorous aspects, highlighted the meeting of the Board of Selectmen, Monday night.

It began when Selectman Paul Niles charged that the Planning Board had conducted a secret meeting, in a private home, last October. The accusation was made during a discussion of a letter from Town Counsel Alan Altman, ruling on the Selectmen's Directive to boards and committees of the town, to comply with the Open Meeting Law.

Altman ruled that the state law applies to all Boards and Committees, whether elected or appointed. The law, Altman's letter said, requires open meetings and open votes.

Chairman Lloyd Bender, in answer to questions from Jim Miceli, indicated that the ruling by Altman did not require that a vote be recorded by name, in the minutes of a meeting. Bender said that the minutes of a meeting of a board could simply show the vote by number, and not by name.

Miceli said that the question of whether or not the vote should be recorded by the names of the individuals had been the Planning Board's main 'bone of contention'. 'They don't want to record the vote by name, in the Minutes' he said.

It was then that Niles charged that the Planning Board had held a secret meeting, on October 15th 'of which there is no record'.

It was, Niles said 'at someone's home'. 'The October 20th minutes record a vote to accept the minutes of the October 15th meeting' Niles declared, 'but there are no such minutes in the files'.

Niles went on to indicate that the subject of the meeting had been the Barbo Industrial Development.

'That's very strange!' Miceli observed.

TM Henneberger got up and took down from the shelf behind his desk the bound volume of the minutes of the Planning Board. He put the volume on the table, in front of Niles, who read a section from the minutes of the October 20th meeting, accepting the minutes of the meeting of October 15.

'Does it say it was at someone's home?' Miceli demanded. Niles replied that it did not.

'That's a hell of an accusation!' Miceli said.

'It was at someone's home,' Niles insisted. 'Where are the minutes?' he demanded.

Miceli wanted to know if Niles had proof, and Niles said he did. He passed the Minutes to Miceli, who promptly passed them back.

'I don't know' Miceli said, 'But you've got to have proof of an accusation like that!'

He said that, as the Planning Board liaison member, for the Selectmen, he would bring up the matter with the Planning Board.

Bender added to the discussion by charging that the Planning Board had elected their officers by 'secret ballot'. Not only that, he went on 'but there were only five members present, and there were six ballots'.

Miceli couldn't remember any secret ballots while he was a member of the Planning Board. Then he corrected himself, laughing: 'Oh yes I do -- the one asking me to resign'.

Community Action

Bob Evans, and Miss Ann Visconti, president and vice-president of the Community Action Program, - a part of the War against Poverty Program of President Johnson - spent a few minutes with the board of Selectmen, on the question of adding members to their Committee.

Evans told the Selectmen that the Woburn Committee and the Lowell Committee were 'good' but didn't think very highly of the committees in some of the other nearby towns.

The President's program requires that there be a large committee, in each community, representative of all walks of life. Evans said that this was a difficult thing to accomplish.

The Selectmen and the Community Action Committee seek to enlarge the Committee, but they did not want 'non-workers'. Miss Visconti read a list of the 17 persons on the committee who have been attending meetings.

Miceli came up with an additional six nominations of persons who, he said, would be 'workers'.

Mrs Drew balked at additional nominations. When Miceli asked her to state her objection she replied that 'There are some things you don't discuss at meetings'.

Miceli made a motion to accept the entire slate of persons named, - somewhere in the vicinity of 35, but no one would second. The motion died.

As a compromise, Evans and Miss Visconti agreed to accept, as a 'working committee' those who had been named as workers, in the list by Miss Visconti, and then report later to the Board of Selectmen, with a revised list of people who will be added as 'workers', within the next few weeks.

Welfare Administration

The Board of Selectmen voted unanimous opposition to Senate Bill 7513, which would abolish all local welfare boards, and agencies, and replace them with a state administered welfare program.

Walter Coleman, Wilmington's Welfare Officer, appealed to the board for such a vote. He told the board that the bill, which is designed to reduce costs, would result in a loss of personal contact, and a reduction of efficiency.

Niles spoke up to say that local people in a local situation could do a better job. He moved that letters be sent to Governor Volpe, and to appropriate legislators, expressing the Board's opposition. The vote was unanimous.

Reading Light

A letter from the Reading Municipal Light stated that the officials of the Utility would be unable to attend a previously proposed meeting in Lynnfield, on May 11th but invited the Board to meet with them, on May 18th at 8 pm in the Municipal Light Building, in Reading. Bender reported that the Lynnfield and N. Reading Selectmen had already accepted, and the Wilmington Board unanimously agreed to attend the meeting.

Traffic Regulations?

A letter from the State Department of Public Works elicited some confusion in the board.

The letter requested that the Selectmen sign and return an acknowledgement of revised traffic regulations for the intersections of Lowell & West Streets, Woburn & Concord Streets, and Middlesex Av and High Street, and had to do with proposed stop signs at those intersections.

No one seemed certain as to whether or not the revised regulations meant that the aforementioned streets would be Stop Streets.

The board decided to sign the acknowledgement, and send it along and then meanwhile have the Town Counsel render an interpretation as to what they had signed.

Hatch Act

The Hatch Act, which prohibits the filling of waterways and swamp areas with out prior permission, and which requires, it seems, a hearing on each such proposal, came in for some discussion.

Selectman Miceli stated several times that the meeting of the Planning Boards of Region 5A, last Thursday, produced a method that evaded the requirement of a hearing before the Board of Selectmen of a town. He told the board that he believed a developer could 'get around the act' by getting permission from other boards.

NILES AND MICELI PASS THE MINUTES TO EACH OTHER: The minutes of the Planning Board, which they were discussing.

The discussion however, was on how the local Selectmen could advertise the required hearings.

The TM read a letter from the publisher of the Town Crier, which was written at the request of the TM, outlining the various methods used by the various boards of the town, relative to advertising public hearings. The Selectmen decided to adopt a method used by the Planning Board, in which a $30 fee is required, at the time a request is made for a hearing. The money, to be deposited by the person making the request, will be used to defray the expenses of advertising, and other expenses, if there are other, after which the remainder will be returned to the person who requested that there be a hearing.

Niles suggested to the board that they write to the Eastern Realty Company, the firm that had originally requested the hearing under the Hatch Act, and inform the firm that they should file a petition. Miceli reported that filing was already taking place, on Cunningham Street. The TM was instructed to order that if any filing had started it be stopped.

Pelletier Resigns
Bender announced that Richard Pelletier of Burlington Avenue, a representative on the Shawsheen Valley Regional Vocational School board had resigned. The board voted to send a letter of appreciation, and proposed a joint meeting with the School Committee on May 31 to discuss the appointment of a new member to the Regional School Committee.

Betterment Streets
TM Henneberger reported that the DiCenso Brothers of Quincy, who are constructing a building for a new industry, off West St. had expressed a desire to construct a new road, between West Street and Woburn Street, in the South Industrial District.

The brothers, he said, had 91 acres under option. They wanted to know how soon they could install sewer and water mains, and have the street built, all under the Betterment plan.

A firm which had been previously interested, in locating in Wilmington wanted to take over 50 acres of the property, the TM said.

Much discussion followed. Mrs Drew expressed herself as in opposition to adding heavily to the tax rate, by approving such a project. In any event, she said, enactment of the Betterment Act would require a special town meeting.

There was some confused discussion, with several mentions of 'several hundred thousand dollars'

Bender finally suggested that the board was under an obligation to assist the brothers in outlining for them a possible time table for getting the proposal to a Special Town Meeting, and it was agreed to invite the DiCenso brothers to come in and discuss the project.

Land Sale

The procedure to be used for the Land Sale, Tuesday night, came up for discussion. Miceli asked Bender as to how he intended to conduct the auction. Bender grinned and said 'he would be 'flying by the seat of my pants'.

Miceli wanted prices set on the various parcels of land, before the auction started, using as a base the valuations given by the town's Principal Assessor.

Mrs Drew said that the idea was ridiculous, and that there would not be any sale of land under the circumstances. Miceli could not see selling the land for less than its appraised value, and Mrs Drew told him that the people who would be buying tax land would only be buying the town's title, and that they would have to spend more money, afterwards, to clear the title in Land Court.

Niles told Miceli that a piece of land that might be worth $1000 to the Assessor would cost 'hundreds of dollars' to clear through Land Court, and thus might be worth only a couple of hundred dollars to the purchaser.

Mrs Drew said that the principal idea was to get the land 'back on the tax rolls'.

The board then agreed, on suggestion of Mr Bender, that another tax title land sale be held, perhaps in October.

66 Girl Scouts and their leaders put in five or six hours, in the tree planting, sponsored by the Wilmington Conservation Commission. Chuck Cornish of the Tree Department, and Frank Columbo on the Conservation Commission showed the girls how to 'lay out' the trees, using stakes for measuring rods. The wedding took place in St. Martin's Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

JAMES MICELI ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF PLANNING BOARD REGIONAL GROUP

James Miceli, Wilmington Selectman and former member of the Wilmington Planning Board, was elected the Chairman of the Mass. Federation of Planning Boards, Region 5A, in a meeting held last Thursday, in the Thompson Club in North Reading. Mr. Miceli had been the Vice Chairman.

Planning Board members and other officers of twenty three towns were present for the meeting, to hear Bruce Gullion of the Mass Department of Conservation talk on the Hatch Act. Fred Fallon of the Department of Commerce, and Assistant Commissioner Benjamin Green of the Department of Commerce also spoke.

A Daniel Gillis, Chairman of the

She was dressed in a traditional full length princess style of pou-de-sole silk with chantilly lace inserts, with a portrait neckline, and long pointed sleeves of chantilly lace. She wore a shoulder length veil, and her headpiece was of crystals and pearls. Her bouquet was of Camilla Orchids, surrounded by Stephanotis, fashioned on her Prayer Book.

Miss Elaine Hersom, sister of the bride, was the Maid of Honor. Miss Hersom wore Princess Pink Satin with a Cordial insert in the back.

The Bridesmaid was Mrs Ellen Hersom, sister-in-law to the bride from Tewksbury. She wore a gown of Cordial Satin with a Princess Pink insert in the back.

The Maid of Honor, and the Bridesmaid carried old fashioned bouquets, of pink and white carnations.

Thomas Pilcher, brother of the groom, from Santa Barbara, Calif. was the Best Man, and Mr Richard Hersom of Tewksbury, was the usher. Miss Madeline Merrill of Medford was in charge of the guest book.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the grandparents of the bride, Mr and Mrs Roland Hersom Sr., of LaMesa, California. Guests were present from Arlington Mass, and Vista, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Hesperia, California.

The mother of the bride, for the reception line, wore pink crepe with cranberry accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. The mother of the groom chose blue crepe, and her corsage was of pink roses.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a light pink suit with white accessories. A white orchid from her bouquet completed the costume, and the couple honeymooned on Mission Bay, San Diego.

Both Mr and Mrs John Pilcher attended Wilmington High School, and prior to her marriage Mrs. Pilcher was employed by Avco Corporation of Wilmington.

Mr Pilcher took his basic training at the Great Lakes Training Center, and further training at San Diego. He is presently serving on board the cruiser USS St. Paul.

ST THOMAS CHURCH BURNS THE MORTGAGE

The ceremony of burning the mortgage, at St. Thomas Church, Saturday evening, was performed by the Rev. Edmund W. Croke, pastor, assisted by the two curates of the church, Rev. Francis Macklin and Rev. Paul Berube.

The Master of Ceremonies was John Brooks, who introduced the pastor.

Father Croke, in a brief talk, told the parishioners that there were plans for a catechetical school, to be built in the future.

The burning of the mortgage was an event of great joy to all present. All joined in the singing of a hymn, after which a reception line was formed.

Father Croke, who has recently returned from Florida, Father Francis Macklin, the honorary chairman, Father Berube, the Rev. John Palmieri, former curate of St. Thomas, and the Rev. John White, now a Paulist Missionary, once a Wilmington boy, were in the receiving line.

There was a catered supper, after the reception, and then dancing to the music of a popular orchestra.

Mrs. Hermaline Babine, and a large committee, were in charge of arrangements, and were most co-operative in their work.

1 Oakwood Road, and John E Dukus, 240 Middlesex Ave.

Outdoor Sign Advertising
Pessimistically the board voted to recommend disapproval of a proposed outdoor sign, scheduled for Main Street, somewhere in the vicinity of Rocco's Restaurant. The decision is to be made by the State Outdoor Advertising Commission.

New Business

Bender uncorked a new phrase, when it came time to discuss 'new business'.

He called it 'new business and bomb throwing'.

Miceli suggested that the board explore with the PBC the possibilities of including swimming pools in new school building programs.

'I think you're crazy' Mrs Drew exclaimed.

Niles and Bender agreed that the idea was 'worth exploring'. Niles related that the Town of Bedford had turned down a proposed swimming pool, to be built along with a school, but then had turned around in town meeting and had guaranteed bonds for a pool, which was constructed by a group of interested citizens, who charged for the use of the pool.

The board voted to send a memo to the PBC, asking that the subject 'be explored'.

The meeting adjourned at 10:20 pm.

Now,
Mr. President,
About This Talk
Of Inflation . . .

We thought you might be interested in how a small group of Yankees is handling this threat to our economy

On June 1st the Reading Municipal Light Department will put into effect a revised rate schedule which will reduce the billings to 14,500 of our customers in Reading, Wilmington, Lynnfield Center and North Reading by an average of 10 per cent. We estimate this will result in an annual savings to them of $192,000.

Fighting inflation is not a battle we have just begun. In 1962, we cut rates by an estimated $75,000 annually and through a year-end cash discount passed on an additional $69,000 to our customers. In 1964, our rates were reduced to the tune of another $80,000 annually.

As these previous rate reductions were continuing, we estimate the accumulative savings passed on to our customers since 1962 have been well in excess of a half-million dollars annually.

We can't make it an iron-clad promise, but projects now in the planning stage for the improvement of power load factors and system flexibility indicate further significant savings for Reading Municipal Light customers, possibly as soon as within a year.

Naturally, we have no control over what our customers do with their savings, but they're Yankees, too, and we suspect they put their money to good use.

In a nutshell, Mr. President, there is nothing inflationary about the rates of the Reading Municipal Light Department.

We thought you would like to know.

Special Delivery for Rev. Stanley Cummings

Two weeks ago something happened. People out of town just did not receive their copies of the Town Crier.

The first complaint was on Friday, from a man in Reading. On Monday there were five more, from such places as Everett, Wakefield, Woburn, and New Hampshire. By Wednesday it was known that the Town Crier had not been received in many more places, including the States of Maine and Florida.

Then, on Thursday a week ago word began to come that the missing paper was received.

The publisher of the Town Crier was planning to spend the weekend in Northampton, at a meeting of the New England Press Association. He planned to go through Deerfield on the way. The purpose of the Deerfield detour was a visit to the Rev. Stanley Cummings, now retired, but busy as ever, and the former pastor of the Wilmington Congregational Church.

Mr. Cummings served as Secretary of the Rotary Club in Wilmington for many years, and as such became 'Stanley' to practically every person in Wilmington.

Just before leaving, Friday morning, the publisher received a card from the Rev. Mr. Cummings, saying that he had not received his copy of the Town Crier.

So - a few copies were taken on the trip. Three hours later the publisher was in Deerfield, knocking on the door of a Main Street home.

The door opened. The gentleman looked out.

The publisher handed him a copy of the Town Crier. 'Here is your paper, Stanley!'

It was the longest personal delivery ever made of the Town Crier - a mere 96 miles.
